

CHOOSE MORC

SELF - DIRECTION

Based on one's desire, vision and need, the Self-Directed service delivery model allows the individual and family the opportunity to create individualized supports. The individual and family have the authority and responsibility over their budget, and decide who they would like to hire, when the supports will be provided and how the supports will be arranged. The services are flexible and can be customized to meet the changing needs of the individual as they learn and grow

- Have you considered self-directing your services but thought it might be too difficult?
- Wondering how Self-Direction could benefit your family?
- Do you know what Self-Direction really means?
- What is an employer of record?
- What is a service agreement?
- What is a financial management services agency?
- Who can be hired?
- What is an Employer Identification Number?

If you want the answers to these questions or others about Self-Direction, please contact your Support Coordinator to set up an information meeting with MORC's Self-Direction team.

CHOICE * EMPOWERMENT *SUPPORT
Decisions that are right for you

CHOICE

Through the person-centered planning process and IPOS, the individual will decide how much support is needed, and whether that support is paid or informal. Self-Direction provides that flexibility.

EMPOWERMENT

Embracing the opportunity to live life without limits the way you choose.

SUPPORT

You are able to direct and control, within your budget, who would assist with direct services meeting desired goals.
